April 25, 2011

We are pleased to announce that earlier this year, the Ohio Traffic Safety Office (OTSO) became part of the Ohio Office of Criminal Justice Services (OCJS). While the Ohio Traffic Safety Office will no longer exist as a standalone entity, its staff, mission and programs will continue as a part of OCJS. As I am sure you are aware, this process requires a great deal of effort internally to make the transition as seamless as possible, however, one of my top priorities is to ensure that we continue to provide our customers with up-to-date criminal justice and traffic safety information and services in a professional and courteous manner.

On May 25, the OTSO website will be incorporated into the OCJS website. By clicking on the Ohio Traffic Safety Office link at the top of the OCJS website, you will have access to the traffic safety information section of the office.

We will continue to look at ways to make our website and our overall services more user-friendly so that we can serve you better.

Sincerely,
