Dear Law Enforcement Professional,

The Ohio Department of Public Safety (ODPS) is preparing to implement Ohio's Scrap Metal Program, including all of the resources that have been developed for use by local law enforcement and scrap metal dealers to jointly combat metal theft across the state. Ohio Administrative Code (OAC) rules 4501:5-3-02 (Certificates of registration), 4501:5-3-04 (Dealer records), and 4501:5-3-05 (Inspections and disciplinary actions) will become effective on July 1, 2014. Although an effective date for OAC rules 4501:5-3-01 (Searchable electronic list(s)) and 4501:5-3-03 (Daily business transaction reporting) has not yet been established, beginning on July 1st, the searchable electronic lists - more commonly referred to as the Do Not Buy List - and the Dealer Daily Transaction Database will become active allowing law enforcement and scrap metal dealers to upload and search data entered into the system.

The Do Not Buy List consists of names and other pertinent information of individuals who have been convicted of theft offenses. This list is compiled either through local law enforcement submitting information from their agency or from the local clerks of court to the system electronically. Dealers are expected to search this list to determine if they are prohibited from purchasing scrap metal from a person under the law. ODPS is partnering with the Ohio Supreme Court to enhance the process of collecting conviction data by receiving conviction data directly from the Ohio Court Network ensuring that law enforcement and scrap dealers have the most comprehensive list available.

The Dealer Daily Transaction Database allows registered scrap dealers to transmit the applicable business transaction data to a central repository making this information along with the Do Not Buy List and the dealer registration database available to law enforcement from virtually any device with an Internet connection. This critical component provides law enforcement with a unique tool listing all non-exempt business transactions, including seller information and photo, vehicles associated with the transactions, images of the government identification cards used, and a complete description of the transaction from all registered dealers throughout Ohio.

In an effort to ensure that this program is as user-friendly and robust as possible, ODPS is enhancing the program to allow for conviction data from the Ohio Courts Network to be added to the system and creating additional capabilities for the scrap dealers to check the Do Not Buy List and submit transaction data. Once the enhancements are completed, the scrap dealers will be required to use the Do Not Buy List and submit the appropriate business transaction data to the Dealer Daily Transaction Database. Data submitted will assist in the development and implementation of the forthcoming system enhancements. As these resources will be available on July 1st, dealers are encouraged to submit their transaction data as if it were required. Law enforcement is encouraged to compile and provide Do Not Buy Lists to scrap dealer facilities in their jurisdictions and submit these same lists electronically to ODPS until the enhancements are completed.

Mission Statement

"to save lives, reduce injuries and economic loss, to administer Ohio's motor vehicle laws and to preserve the safety and well being of all citizens with the most cost-effective and service-oriented methods available."

Below is a basic description of how to access and use the Do Not Buy List and Dealer Daily Transaction database:

- Law enforcement professionals must possess an active account on the ODPS Contact and Information Management System (CIMS). In order to register an account, complete the application online at <https://ext.dps.state.oh.us/CIMS/>.
- A CIMS user, logs onto the website and selects the “Search Scrap Dealer” tab, which will allow the user to select between submitting their “Do Not Buy List” to ODPS, searching Registered Scrap Metal Dealer information, and/or searching business transactions submitted by dealers to ODPS.
- Law enforcement professionals can find the document detailing the technical specifications for the Do Not Buy List on CIMS, Ohio Homeland Security’s website, or may request this document via email at Scrapmetal@dps.state.oh.us.
- The rules detailing program requirements can be found on the Ohio Department of Public Safety’s website at http://publicsafety.ohio.gov/ohs_rules.stm. The rules going into effect on July 1st can be found under the “Recently Adopted Rules” section, while the rules that are awaiting an effective date can be found under the “Proposed Rules and Public Hearing Notices” section.

If you have any questions please contact Marni Hollman, by phone at (855) 377-0193 or email at ScrapMetal@dps.state.oh.us.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
