100 Days of Summer Fun and Safety

It seems as though summer would never arrive. After months of frigid temps and weeks of bundling up in thick coats and warm gloves, we've shed them for the uniform of summer: a pair of shorts, a pair of flip flops and a cool pair of shades.

Summer is all about enjoying one's self and spending time with family and friends. Unfortunately, it's also the time of year where more motor vehicle crashes, and consequently more injuries and fatalities, occur on Ohio roadways than any other time of the year.

To ensure that our community has a fun, and more importantly, safe summer, the Ohio Department of Public Safety is joining forces with hundreds of safety partners statewide to focus on reducing the number of injuries and fatalities on Ohio roads caused by drinking and driving, high speed and failing to buckle up.

The effort, known as the 100 Days of Summer and part of the "What's Holding You Back?" campaign, starts Memorial Day and runs through the Labor Day holiday.

Officers statewide will be out in force, diligently checking vehicles and talking to both drivers and passengers, during these 100 days. They'll be explaining how adopting three simple habits could potentially save a life.

- Don't drink and drive. Impaired drivers caused over 34 percent of all highway fatalities in Ohio in 2002. A majority of these drivers (77.7 percent) were male.
- Maintain a safe speed. Safety experts all agree that speed kills. Officers, emergency room physicians and EMTs can all graphically share stories about the difference between hitting an object while traveling at 55 miles per hour as opposed to 60-65 miles per hour. A driver can be ejected from a vehicle in a car crash at speeds as low as 25 miles per hour.
- Always buckle up. Wearing a seat belt is the simplest, easiest way to protect one's self while riding in a motor vehicle. Yet, nearly a quarter of Ohioans still aren't buckling up. Statistics show that one person is killed on Ohio roads and highways every 6.2 hours. A person is injured every 3.7 minutes.

With everyone's combined efforts, we can make this summer the safest one yet.

As a result of the 2003 mobilization efforts, the state's highest seat belt usage rate in history, 74.7 percent, was recorded.
