Characteristics of People Who Drink & Drive

A recent Traffic Tech publication from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA) discussed the characteristics of persons who drink and drive. These characteristics are better known than ever before. Basic demographic data for age and gender exist in abundance. It is clearer than ever that young males account for a large share of the alcohol-crash problem.

While multiple DUI offenders have higher recidivism rates than first offenders, persons with no priors at all may have the highest involvement in total crashes and in alcohol-related crashes of all degrees of severity. Motorcycles have the highest rate of alcohol-related fatal crashes, followed by light trucks, passenger cars and large trucks in that order.

Medina Township Awards Ceremony

The Medina County Safe Communities Awards breakfast honored many outstanding people in Medina Township on June 24, 2002 regarding protecting Ohio citizens. The entire Medina County Law Enforcement Coalition was present along with the Ohio Department of Public Safety's (ODPS) coordinator Robert Wakefield, trustees, health department officials and others.

Lt. Corey Davies of Post 52, Medina, was honored from the Ohio State Highway Patrol (OSHP). Many other law enforcement officers from Medina County were also honored. Medina Township Police Chief Jerome T. Klue presented the awards.

Lt. Corey Davies receives a safety award from Medina Township Police Chief Jerome T. Klue, who heads the Medina County Safe Communities program.

Robert Wakefield, ODPS Safe Communities coordinator, speaks to the group regarding the Medina County program.
