OFFICERS GRADUATE

from the Patrol's Basic Peace Officer Class

Members of the 105th Basic Peace Officer Class received training certificates in a graduation ceremony held last December at the Ohio State Highway Patrol Academy. The 39 class members will assume duties as peace officers for 25 Ohio agencies.

The 16-week basic course began in March. The course was developed by the Ohio Peace Officer Training Council and offers comprehensive instruction in more than 150 topics, including criminal law, community relations, physical training, and patrol car operation.

Officer Jeremy Severance, of the Reynoldsburg Police Department, was selected class speaker by his fellow class members, and addressed the assembly. Officer Leroy M. Sanders Jr., of the Kettering Police Department, received top marksmanship honors. Officer Casey T. Carty, of the Westlake Police Department, and Officer Rhett D. Walters, of the Marietta Police Department, were honored for superior achievement in physical training. Officer Carty also earned top honors in scholastics.

Chief Phillip K. Potter, president of the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police, was the featured speaker for the ceremony and addressed an audience of graduates, friends, relatives, and law enforcement officers.

Colonel Kenneth L. Morckel, superintendent of the Ohio State Highway Patrol, and Vernon Chenevey, director of the Ohio Peace Officers Training Commission, joined Chief Potter in presenting certificates of training to the graduates.
